

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—Tuesday, February 22, 1994

The House met at 2 p.m.

The Chaplain, Rev. James David Ford, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Let us pray today using President George Washington's prayer for his country:

Almighty God: We make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of their citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large. And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without a humble imitation of whose example in these things we can never hope to be a happy nation. Grant our supplication, we beseech Thee. Amen.

PLANS OF COMMITTEE ON RULES REGARDING H.R. 6, IMPROVING AMERICA'S SCHOOLS ACT OF 1994

(Mr. GORDON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform Members about the Rules Committee's plans regarding H.R. 6, the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994. Education and Labor Committee Chairman FORD announced in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of February 11, that he would probably seek a rule which would require that amendments be printed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD prior to consideration of H.R. 6. It is anticipated that this measure will come to the floor this week.

Although the Rules Committee is scheduled to meet tomorrow on this request, it is recommended that those Members who anticipate offering amendments to H.R. 6, print their amendments in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD not later than Wednesday, February 23, 1994. A "Dear Colleague" letter from the Rules Committee Chairman MOAKLEY was distributed on February 17, informing Members of this request.

Amendments should be drafted to H.R. 6 as reported from the Committee on Education and Labor. This bill is available in the document room. Chairman FORD has also requested that the bill be read by title except for title I. He has asked that title I, which is the actual reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, be read by the individual titles within title I. Amendments should be titled "Submitted for printing under clause 6 of rule 23," and submitted at the Speaker's table. Amendments do not need to be submitted to the Rules Committee.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. GORDON. I yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it from the chairman, this will be an open rule and the amendments must be printed by 5 o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, that will be determined tomorrow.

Mr. GOODLING. The request of the chairman is that it be an open rule.

Mr. GORDON. It is my understanding that is the gentleman's request. I am not sure what the result will be.

MAKING IN ORDER ON TOMORROW CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION 343

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that it be in order on Wednesday, February 23, 1994, to consider House Resolution 343 in the House, and that the previous question be considered as ordered on the resolution to its adoption without intervening motion or demand for division of the question.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Tennessee?

There was no objection.

HOUR OF MEETING ON TOMORROW

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that when the House adjourns today, it adjourn to meet at 1:00 p.m. tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Tennessee?

There was no objection.

REMARKS OF HERBERT H. BATEMAN, GEORGE WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY WREATH-LAYING CEREMONY, WASHINGTON MONUMENT, FEBRUARY 22, 1994

It is with great pride that I pay tribute to George Washington, a peerless military leader of the War for Independence, the able Chairman of the Constitutional Convention and our nation's brilliant first President. His standing and the respect of his peers is proven by the fact he is our only President whose election was without opposition.

George Washington was a man of great courage and wisdom. Not only did he have the foresight to help design the democracy we know today, but he possessed the strength and conviction to put his plans into action by leading the rebellious colonists to a victory against overwhelming odds.

How fitting it is that this towering monument behind me was erected in his honor and that we come here every year to pay tribute to this great American. I admit to having a special affection for George Washington—much of his life was spent living and working in what I proudly refer to as America's First Congressional District.

Washington was born in America's First District in Westmoreland County, which is about 75 miles southeast of here. He spent most of his childhood at Ferry Farm, just 30 minutes outside the beltway in Stafford County, which also is in America's First District. It was at Ferry Farm that the boy who would become the father of this country worked in his copy books, wrote his "Rules of Civility and Decent Behavior," taught himself surveying and, if there is truth to the legend, chopped down the cherry tree and threw a coin across the Rappahannock River.

I am proud of George Washington and what he means to my District. But more important, I am proud of George Washington and what he means to our great nation. Through his leadership we won our war for independence, started down the path of representative government and became the role model for liberty under law for all the world.

George Washington was the embodiment of the ideals on which our nation was founded. During this two terms as our first president, he governed with dignity as well as restraint. He provided the stability and the authority the nation so sorely needed; gave substance to the Constitution; and reconciled competing factions and divergent policies within the government and his administration. George Washington's life lends testimony to the notion that through dedication to a noble cause, the impossible is indeed achievable.

Another great leader from America's First District, Light-Horse Harry Lee, on the floor of the House of Representatives in 1799 paid tribute to George Washington in these memorable terms:

"First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

This characterization is as universe today as it was in 1799.

CONGRESSWOMAN LESLIE BYRNE—GEORGE WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY CEREMONY, FEBRUARY 22, 1994

Honored guests, ladies and gentlemen. It is an honor to be with you today to celebrate the birth of the father of our nation. As we gather here every year in front of his monument it is easy to get caught up in the grandeur, the myth of George Washington. But the reality of President Washington is why I believe his memory endures and continues to show us the way.

Long before George Washington was a general or president he was an active participant in his community. His boyhood was spent on the family farm on the Rappahannock River. His father died when he was 11 years old, and he was left in the care of his older brother, Lawrence. Although formal schooling was a sometimes thing, we know from schoolboy papers that survive that he was well trained in geography and practical mathematics. At 14, he painstakingly copied a set of moral precepts called the rules of a civility which were carefully preserved.

His real education was in listening and learning from those with whom he came in contact—the farmers, the trappers and outdoorsmen, the new settlers and the landed gentry. All contributed to his training.

At 16, Washington got his first paid job as a surveyor and struck out to map the wilderness. This experience further taught him about self-reliance and endurance.

Upon the death of his half-brother Lawrence, when George was only 20 years old, he became the owner of Mount Vernon. There and in the city of Alexandria he was an active member of the community. Whether it was as a vestry man of his church, holding dances or horse races at Mount Vernon, or playing cards, he engaged people and was engaged by them.

This was no brooding, solitary figure. No Stuart portrait or marble statue could capture his strength of character of his vision and understanding for the people he chose to serve.

Alexander Hamilton described him as "the sort of natural leader to whom people turned instinctively when trouble was afoot and when the judgments of the merely brilliant could not be altogether trusted." This was an elegant way saying George Washington was a person of common sense. I believe that common sense was created and nurtured by Washington's investment in his community, be it his corner of Virginia or the broader community of a new country he helped create defend and lead. A country that because of his sterling example, continues to grow change and work for the American people. And if we continue to follow his example by working in our communities, investing in those around us and exercising common sense, we will continue to make our nation stronger and live the vision that President Washington had for us. Part of that vision was spelled out in his farewell address when he warned his countrymen to "forswear party spirit and sectional passions."

Today, we are poised to take on the most challenging domestic issues of our time, and I offer Washington's words as a guidepost. Then as now, we will not get far if we allow those things that divide us to dictate the debate. Only be searching for that consensus of our national community will we move forward.

So as a Virginian, I am proud to stand here today at the base of a monument dedicated to Virginia's best. I realize, however, that this farmer, surveyor, soldier, politician and leader belongs to the entire country. I only hope they see past the statues and portraits, to the farmer with dirt on his hands, to the popular story-telling member of the House of Burgesses, enjoying a card game in a tavern in Williamsburg, or see the frightened young man leading his troops back from Braddock's debacle.

Then remember this uncommon man honored by his nation preserving our new government by providing for the first peaceful transition of power and whose every action was a precedent for how we conduct our nation's government.

Because George Washington put his nation first, he will always be "first in the hearts of his countrymen."

TRIBUTE TO RANDY SHILTS

(Ms. WOOLSEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mourn the recent death of celebrated journalist Randy Shilts. Mr. Shilts died at his home, in my district, at the age of 42. He died from complications associated with AIDS.

Randy Shilts was the country's leading AIDS reporter—a job which led him to write the historic account of the AIDS crisis titled: "And the Band Played On."

He also brought national attention to America's ban on gays in the military through his research for his most recent book: "Conduct Unbecoming."

Randy Shilts has been honored for his outstanding work time and time again with awards too numerous to mention here. He will be sorely missed by all those who knew him and his writing.

Mr. Speaker, the best way we can pay tribute to Randy's work is to keep fighting to bring an end to the terrible scourge of AIDS—a disease which has robbed America of far too many of its precious resources—including Randy Shilts.

RACE-BASED VOTER FRAUD IN PENNSYLVANIA STATE SENATE ELECTION

(Mr. WELDON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WELDON. Mr. Speaker, with all the furor over Ed Rollins and the unsubstantiated allegations of electoral shenanigans, I thought our colleagues might be interested to learn that the only proven case of race-based voter fraud in America last year occurred in the Pennsylvania State Senate election in Philadelphia.

The word from the court has come down, and its results are explosive. A Federal district court ordered the results of the election overturned. The judge found that the campaign of Democrat Bill Stinson engaged in massive ballot fraud, deception, intimidation, harassment, and forgery.

In fact, the judge ruled that Stinson and his Democrat party hacks had stolen the election by misleading Latino Americans into filing hundreds of fraudulent absentee ballots.

The judge ruled that Republican Bruce Marks be declared the winner, and seated in the State senate today, giving Republicans control of that body.

Unlike the Rollins fiasco, this is real life, not just the self-congratulatory musings of a victorious consultant. Bill Stinson and his cronies deliberately duped Philadelphia Latinos in order to further their own political careers.

The smell of rank corruption is heavy in the air. It might be nice if even a few of those who were so outraged by the Rollins allegations were to stand up today and applaud the courageous decision of Judge Clarence Newcomer. He found the facts, he applied the law, he brought justice at last to this tawdry tale.

PRESIDENT CLINTON'S FOREIGN POLICY SUCCESSES

(Mr. RICHARDSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, United States policy toward Bosnia is working, and it is about time the President and Secretary of State got some credit.

Mr. Speaker, last week, under the strong and forceful leadership of President Clinton, we saw joint action by the allies, the United Nations, and NATO, successfully push for the pull-back of Bosnian Serb armaments from around Sarajevo. Today the talk is of the future and efforts to bring life back to that city.

On another front, the Clinton-Christopher team also scored. For far too long, North Korea has resisted international inspections of its nuclear sites. Last week, following resolute action by the United States, the North Koreans agreed to inspections.

Mr. Speaker, these two breakthroughs show the skill and ability of this administration on the world stage. The problems and challenges are numerous but the President deserves praise for his recent successes.

HEALTH CARE

(Mr. THOMAS of Wyoming asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. THOMAS of Wyoming. Mr. Speaker, I want to talk a little bit about health care. I have just spent a week in Wyoming and we talked a lot about health care.

One of the conclusions one cannot help but make is that the one fits all kind of health care program will not fit in Wyoming. What fits in Baltimore does not fit in Basin, WY. The Clinton plan is based on numbers. The Clinton plan is based on HMO's, dealing with a great many people, as is the Cooper plan.

It takes, according to the medical journal, 10,000 people to make the Cooper plan work to have the leverage and access. In Wyoming, it is not just having insurance that gives one access, it is the idea that there is somebody there to take care of you.

We also are a State of small business. And mandated health insurance premiums will trade health care for jobs and they will both fail.

What we need is a program that makes fundamental changes in the program that we have. We need fundamental changes in insurance. We need fundamental changes in the characteristics of hospitals so that they can be reimbursed. We need a flexible program, Mr. Speaker. We need a health program but not a one fits all Government-run nationalized health program.

MAKING OUR STREETS SAFE

(Ms. HARMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. HARMAN. Mr. Speaker, "Officer Down." The two most dreaded words in law enforcement.

In the last several months, the communities in California's 36th Congressional District have been rocked by the tragic and unprecedented murders of Officers Martin Ganz of Manhattan Beach and Mike Tracy and Tom Vanderpool of Palos Verdes Estates.

At the moving joint service for Tracy and Vanderpool which I attended yesterday, their colleagues and relatives described "Trace" as a dirt bike racer with a pet nickname for everyone and "Vandy" as an incurable romantic who touched the hearts and lives of many as the Christmas Santa over the years.

Monday's Los Angeles Times carried a touching front page story headlined "Toll of Violence Haunts Families of Police Officers."

I cannot bring these officers back, but I can lend my voice and all my conviction to the effort to deter our young from lives of crime and punish swiftly and severely those who commit violent crimes or any crimes using a firearm—with the ultimate penalty for those who kill our law enforcement officers.

I stand 100 percent behind the peace officers in my district. They risk their lives to make my family and our community safe. We must find the way to make them safe.

AN OPEN RULE FOR H.R. 6

(Mr. BEREUTER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, on Thursday the House will consider important education legislation, H.R. 6. This Member strongly urges the Rules Committee to grant an open rule on this bill. It is important, as one of several examples, that there be an opportunity to offer an amendment similar to the one offered in committee by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. ARMEY] regarding home schooling and that there is an opportunity to perhaps permit a Member to offer an amendment which clarifies that the bill does not mandate outcome-based education.

The Arme amendment must be allowed to be offered on the House floor because of the way it was handled in committee. A significant number of Americans have doubts about the intentions of the Federal Government, the Department of Education, and the Education and Labor Committee. They are concerned that the Federal Government is beginning to move in the direction of certifying teachers in home and private schools.

Mr. Speaker, I want to remind my colleagues that under Article X of the U.S. Constitution, the responsibility to provide and regulate education is given to States; in spite of the views of activists inside and outside of Congress, there is no Federal role.

Again, Mr. Speaker, this Member urges the Rules Committee to bring

H.R. 6 to the House floor under an open rule or at least allow a generous number of amendments covering all the controversial aspects of this legislation. Failing to do so, they are going to be surprised how many negative votes there are for H.R. 6.

CLINTON FOREIGN POLICY

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, throughout his first year in office, President Clinton has set the ship of state adrift in some very rocky international waters. Now, after 13 months of rudderless foreign policy, President Clinton has hit upon a cease fire in Sarajevo brokered in large part by the French and Russians.

It is time for Mr. Clinton to start taking foreign policy seriously. We have seen our foreign policy wander through the sands of Somalia until American soldiers were killed for no apparent reason.

We have seen American military involvement in Bosnia at least temporarily averted through this fragile cease-fire. Where do we go from here?

With an ever-growing crisis on the Korean Peninsula, now more than ever, it is time to put our rudder back in the water and find a direction for our foreign policy.

In order to prevent future conflicts, Mr. Clinton must aim another laser beam at foreign policy, and reassert American leadership in the world arena.

W-2 FORMS AND WHAT THEY SHOW

(Mr. SMITH of Michigan asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I have in my hand a W-2 form. Every working American knows what this is, but I think it's an excellent time of year to look at this W-2 form to see what government does to us, by observing how much they take out of our paychecks.

If you are an average working person in Michigan, government takes 42 cents of every dollar you earn. The Federal Government taxes too much, borrows too much, and spends too much.

Those under 40 should pay particular attention because if you retire after the year 2020 you're in trouble. There will be just two working Americans to support each Social Security recipient by that time. Your Social Security taxes today don't go for your Social Security, your Medicare deductions don't go for your health insurance.

It's a good time of year to think about what kind of government you want, the kind of person you want to send to Congress next November.

CONGRATULATIONS TO PICABO STREET

(Mr. CRAPO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. Speaker, it is my honor today to extend congratulations to Picabo Street, the silver medalist winner in the women's downhill. Picabo comes from Triumph, ID, which is close to some of Idaho's greatest skiing in the Sun Valley area. She has shown the strength of will and the perseverance that it takes to become a silver medalist, announcing 10 years ago to her family that she was going to compete in the Olympics.

Her success has made her a good role model for many young people who aspire to compete in the Olympics.

On a personal note, I hope that maybe she can help me and my kids learn a little bit better how to get down those slopes in Sun Valley.

Picabo has brought honor to Idaho and America and deserves our hearty congratulations.

CLINTON'S HEALTH CARE PLAN

(Mr. BOEHNER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Speaker, my colleagues, the jury is in on the Clinton health care bill. The American people have spoken loudly and clearly, and it is time to proclaim the Clinton health care bill as dead.

□ 1420

That is d-e-a-d, dead. Why? Because the American people do not want the Government to take control of the Nation's health care system. The American people do not want to pay more and get less when it comes to health care.

Third, the American people do not want to pay higher taxes, so that we can try to fix what is not wrong with America's health care system.

It is time to give this health care bill from the President a proper burial, a funeral. Let us bless it and let us move on with a real debate about how we can fix the problems in today's health care system without throwing out the baby with the bath water.

BIG GOVERNMENT IS WRECKING ECONOMIES AROUND THE WORLD

(Mr. DUNCAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, the Washington Post front page headline today says: "German Workers Getting Stiff Shot of Reality."

The sub-headline sums it up: "Bonuses, Perks Vanish as Firms Fight to Survive."

The story says that the "party  is over" as excessive pay and benefits financed by government subsidies or required by government regulation caused the German economy to plummet.

It is sickening, and really ridiculous, when liberals stand on this floor and say we must mandate this benefit or require that regulation because almost all other countries do.

Yet big government is wrecking the economy of countries all over this world, and it will soon wreck ours, too, if we do not wake up.

The liberal mindset seems to be that government can run your life and spend your money better than you can yourself.

The liberal mindset seems to be that almost all other countries are better to workers than we are, and Germany has frequently been held out as an enlightened, progressive, liberal example.

But consider this: Hundreds of millions want to come here to gain freedom and opportunity and a chance for a good life.

Every place where liberals have caused the government to get too big, the people have ended up starving or living under horrible conditions, and they are getting out as fast as they possibly can.

The real solution to our problems is less government—not more. The only solution that will really work is something called free enterprise.

EDUCATIONAL FREEDOM

(Mr. CANADY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CANADY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my concern regarding the provisions of H.R. 6 which potentially mandate the State certification of teachers in private, elementary, and secondary schools, and of parents who home school their children. In its present form, H.R. 6 could lead to a massive, unjustified governmental intrusion into private education in America.

Parents should be allowed to educate their children in accordance with their own principles and beliefs. The government should not interfere with this. This is a fundamental right which is threatened by the ambiguous language of H.R. 6.

We need an open rule on H.R. 6, and we need an unequivocal amendment to protect the fundamental right of American families to educate their children.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MONTGOMERY). Pursuant to the provisions of clause 5 of rule I, the Chair announces that he will postpone further proceedings today on each motion to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote is objected to under clause 4 of rule XV.

Such roll call votes, if postponed, will be taken on Wednesday, February 23, 1994.

SAFE SCHOOLS ACT OF 1994

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2455) to help local school systems achieve goal six of the national education goals, which provides that by the year 2000, every school in America will be free of drugs and violence and will offer a disciplined environment conducive to learning, by ensuring that all schools are safe and free of violence, as amended.

(3) CONSTRUCTION.—A local educational agency may not use funds under this Act for construction.

SEC. 6. NATIONAL LEADERSHIP.

To carry out the purpose of this Act, the Secretary may use funds reserved under section 2(b)(2) to conduct national leadership activities such as research, program development and evaluation, data collection, public awareness activities, training and technical assistance, to provide grants to noncommercial telecommunications entities for the production and distribution of national video-based projects that provide young people with models for conflict resolution and responsible decisionmaking, and to conduct peer review of applications under this Act. The Secretary may carry out such activities directly, through interagency agreements, or through grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements.

SEC. 7. REPORTS.

SEC. 8. DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this Act:

(1) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY.—The term "local educational agency" has the meaning given such term in section 1471(12) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 2891(12)).

(2) SECRETARY.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Education.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. KILDEE] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] will be recognized for 20 minutes. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. KILDEE].

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, violence in our schools is a problem of national concern.

In testimony before my Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education, Madeleine Kunin, Deputy Secretary of Education, stated that:

Approximately 3 million thefts and violent crimes occur on or near schools every year;

Sixteen percent of high school seniors reported having been threatened with a weapon at school during the previous year; and,

Seven percent reported being injured with a weapon.

H.R. 2455 takes a first step toward making our schools safer.

The next step will come on Thursday when H.R. 6, which includes the reauthorization of the Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, comes to the floor.

That program provides funds for activities aimed at making schools safer such as the DARE Program.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2455 authorizes $50 million in funds to enable schools to implement comprehensive violence reduction strategies designed to reduce the incidence of violence in schools and to increase opportunities for schools to maintain disciplined environments conducive to learning.

Authorized activities include:

Developing student-led programs incorporating peer counseling and peer mediation;

Teaching conflict resolution techniques to students and teachers; and,

Developing community education programs involving parents, businesses, local governments, and others.

Mr. Speaker, the fiscal year 1994 appropriations bill contained $20 million to address violence in schools subject to the enactment of legislation.

This bill will enable the Department of Education to begin work in this important area.

I want to commend MAJOR OWENS for introducing this legislation on behalf of the administration and to thank him for his hard work on the issue.

I am pleased to be able to bring the bill to the House floor in a timely manner.

H.R. 2455 addresses a critical need which has long been a concern to teachers and parents in the State of Michigan.

Unfortunately, this issue struck close to home when just recently a student in Flint, MI in my district was shot by another student while at school.

H.R. 2455 is a good bill and I urge its passage.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I recently read the following, and I quote: "Mom, can I tell you something? I'm worried. All of the boys I grew up with are dead. I lie awake at night and think about it. What am I supposed to do?"

The question was asked by a 13-year-old boy in New Orleans. His mother suddenly realized that of a group of 6-year-olds who had started school together 7 years earlier, only her son was still living. All the others had met violent deaths.

Nearly 1 million adolescents between the ages of 12 and 19 are victims of violent crimes each year, and this has been true at least since 1985. The victimization of adolescents, particularly 12- to 15-year-olds, is growing. Teenagers are twice as likely to be assaulted as persons aged 20 and older.

The rate and intensity of violence involving children and youth, moreover, has escalated dramatically, and much of it is accounted for by adolescents attacking their peers. Adolescent homicide rates have reached the highest levels in history.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2455, the Safe Schools Act.

I am alarmed, as I am sure is everyone in this body, at the growing number of violent acts in our Nation's schools. Children are afraid to walk to and from school because they don't know if one of their classmates is waiting around the corner with a weapon to attack them because of something they said. When students are in school they are also afraid because they do not know when one of their classmates may, at the slightest provocation, pull out a gun and start shooting.

Mr. Speaker, this is not an environment conducive to learning and it is no wonder that children in such surroundings have a difficult time concentrating on their education.

The bill we have before us today takes a modest step at addressing this problem by giving schools riddled with crime, violence, and discipline problems some additional dollars to develop and implement violence prevention activities. For instance, it allows funds to be used for conflict resolution programs, which help teach children alternative methods of resolving their differences.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out that H.R. 2455, as reported by the Committee on Education and Labor, recognizes that violence is not limited to urban schools. As the representative of a rural area in Pennsylvania, I can tell you that school violence exists no matter where you go. It is a serious problem that affects the ability of educators to provide students with the skills they need to graduate and become productive citizens. I am very pleased that this legislation recognizes this fact and encourages the Secretary to award grants to initiate programs in rural areas.

I urge enactment of this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I yield, such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Ms. DELAURO].

□ 1430

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 2455, the Safe Schools Act, and I commend its sponsor, Representative OWENS, and Chairman KILDEE, and the other members of the Education and Labor Committee for their leadership on this legislation.

Soon, we will embark on one of the most crucial debates of this session—the debate over crime. I am particularly pleased that before our deliberations begin, we are coming together, in a bipartisan spirit, to pass the Safe Schools Act. Our action today sends a clear signal to the American people: Congress is committed to helping rid schools of violence and crime. By authorizing $50 million for the Department of Education to develop model programs and policies to promote school safety and reduce and prevent violence in schools, the act will encourage the development of more innovative programs, such as: Alternative after-school activities, peer mediation and counseling, and conflict resolution programs.

This legislation is especially meaningful to me because last fall, I established a regional anti-crime youth council, this council, which is comprised of junior and high school students, has been meeting to discuss the crime problems they face. They are now developing their own creative solutions to these problems, and the problems the Safe Schools Act authorizes will help these students translate their ideas into action.

The Safe Schools Act is an important investment in our children—and a critical investment in our fight against crime. I urge your strong support.

Mr. FORD of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2455, the Safe Schools Act of 1994.

We will soon confer with the Senate on our respective versions of the Goals 2000 Educate America Act and the School-to-Work Opportunities Act. But neither bill will achieve our intentions if we do not provide an environment where children can learn and teachers can teach.

This legislation could not come sooner. It will help promote school safety and prevent school violence. It will assist school administrators, teachers and parents as they work to abate crime.

H.R. 2455 would authorize $50 million in competitive grants to local education agencies that serve areas with high rates of youth crime and violence. Individual grants are limited to $3 million and 1 year.

Local agencies applying for the grants would assess their needs, described how they will coordinate their activities with other school improvement plans and the Safe and Drug-Free Schools initiatives to come.

It should be a national imperative that all children enrolled in our 15,173 school districts be offered a rigorous and challenging curriculum, but it is a given that their schools should be safe and secure.

A recent Louis Harris poll found that nearly 1 in 4 students and 1 in 10 teachers have been victims of violence on or near school property. Thirteen percent of students said that they had carried a weapon to school. Six percent of the boys and 1 percent of the girls said they had threatened someone with a knife or gun in or around school.

The New York Times reported on a Justice Department survey that indicate that more than one-fifth of the boys at 10 inner city high schools owned guns. A Harvard University survey showed that 15 percent of students had carried a handgun within a month of the poll.

It is clear that excellence in academic performance is impossible amid the shootings, brutality and sociopathic behavior that engulf many of our school campuses.

Mr. Speaker, the Federal Government has a vital role to play in restoring safety to our schools. Every child has a right to learn in an environment free of intimidation, tension, and violence. We hope this bill will help our students be free. I urge my colleagues to vote for the bill.

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, combating the violence in our streets and the violence in our schools is now the No. 1 priority of the American people.

When the House takes up H.R. 6, the Improving America's Schools Act, later this week, we will have the opportunity to approve legislation which would provide every school district in the Nation with additional resources to prevent violence in and around their schools by the start of the next fiscal year.

Unfortunately, there are schools in our country who cannot afford to wait that long. They need help today.

H.R. 2455, which I introduced with Congressman SERRANO, will provide the Department of Education with the means to respond immediately to this crisis, providing emergency assistance to those schools which now face severe violence problems and enabling the Department to develop model antiviolence programs which schools throughout America will be able to implement when the Improving America's Schools Act is signed into law.

I urge my colleagues to support this legislation to jump-start Federal efforts to respond to the epidemic of violence which now threatens too many students and teachers throughout our Nation.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MONTGOMERY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. KILDEE] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2455, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks, and include extraneous material on H.R. 2455, the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

SENSE OF CONGRESS WITH RESPECT TO SOUTH PACIFIC REGION

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 180) expressing the sense of the Congress with respect to the South Pacific region, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 180

Whereas the United States has strong and enduring economic, political, and strategic ties with the South Pacific region, which are integral to the achievement of a New Pacific Community;

Whereas the countries of the region play a constructive international role, were supportive of the United States throughout the Cold War and continue to support its role in ensuring regional stability and security, and share a commitment to democratic values, free-markets, and human rights;

Whereas the United States is geographically and historically a member of the Pacific community and has unique relationships with, and responsibilities to, its Pacific Island territories, freely associated states, and former territories;

Whereas the United States has significant and expanding commercial interests in the South Pacific and enjoys a substantial trade surplus with countries of the region, and the promotion of commercial links between the United States and countries of the region is welcomed as providing a necessary foundation for future economic well-being;

Whereas the region's fisheries resources are of vital importance to the economic well-being of Pacific Island countries and have provided lucrative commercial opportunities for the United States fishing industry, and the effective management of these resources and the continued functioning of the South Pacific Fisheries Treaty are essential;

Whereas the United States has been welcomed as a member of South Pacific regional organizations, including the South Pacific Commission and the South Pacific Regional Environmental Program, and as a dialogue partner of the South Pacific Forum;

Whereas environmental issues can bear directly on the economic and physical security of countries in the South Pacific region, have the potential to effect the well-being of United States citizens in the Pacific region, and can only be dealt with effectively at the regional and global level;

Whereas peoples of the South Pacific have actively contributed to the development of a peaceful international community through their constructive participation in international forums, including the United Nations and its peacekeeping operations, and through support for the South Pacific Nuclear Free Zone, the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, and the Chemical Weapons Convention;

Whereas United States leadership in extending its nuclear testing moratorium is warmly welcomed by countries of the South Pacific, and countries of the South Pacific have shown understanding for United States efforts to dispose of its chemical weapons stockpile while emphasizing the importance of the United States commitment to close the Johnston Atoll Chemical Agent Destruction System when the current program of chemical weapons and agent destruction is completed;

Whereas there has been only one Heads-of-Government summit involving the President of the United States and Pacific Island leaders, and there is considerable value in dialogue at a senior political level with all countries of the region;

Whereas the United States has reduced its diplomatic presence in the South Pacific to a minimum, the Agency for International Development is closing posts in the region, and the current very modest program of United States foreign assistance to Pacific Island countries may be reduced; and

Whereas the United States has an opportunity to bolster its links with the Pacific Island countries through the negotiation of a Joint Declaration of Cooperation: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) it is in the national interest for the United States to remain actively engaged in the South Pacific region as a means of supporting the important United States commercial and strategic interests, and to encourage the consolidation of democratic values;

(2) the United States should encourage economic, trade, and investment relationships with the countries of the South Pacific, in particular through the Joint Commercial Commission and its working group, and through other Asia/Pacific regional forums;

(3) the United States should seek to maintain its diplomatic presence in the South Pacific region;

(4) notwithstanding current fiscal constraints, the executive branch, particularly the Department of State, should work actively with the Congress to continue the very modest levels of foreign assistance provided to the region and to encourage the active participation in the region of other international donors;

(5) the United States has interests in preserving the natural resources and biodiversity of the South Pacific region, and is uniquely positioned to promote sustainable development through active participation in the South Pacific Regional Environmental Program and the United Nations Global Conference for the Sustainable Development of Small Island States and through implementation of the Biodiversity and Climate Conventions;

(6) the United States should cooperate closely with regional governments to strengthen sustainable management principles and practices as they apply to the region's fisheries resources;

(7) the United States should avail itself of the opportunity for contact with leaders of all South Pacific countries through regular Ministerial/Cabinet level meetings, including at the South Pacific Forum dialogue, to ensure that the views of regional governments are given consideration in policy deliberations; and

(8) the United States should take an active interest in the proposed Joint Declaration of Cooperation between the United States and certain Pacific Island governments as an opportunity for the United States to renew its commitment to the region.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from New York [Mr. GILMAN] will be recognized for 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA].

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of House Concurrent Resolution 180, which expresses the sense of the Congress with respect to the South Pacific.

Mr. Speaker, I want to commend the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on the Asia-Pacific, the Honorable Gary Ackerman, for his leadership and foresight in arranging the recent meeting between the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Ambassadors from the South Pacific nations. Out of that extremely productive gathering came the framework for the excellent resolution introduced by Chairman Ackerman, House Concurrent Resolution 180, which comprehensively expresses our thoughts on U.S. policy toward the South Pacific region.

I am proud to be an original cosponsor of this measure which reflects the deep and enduring ties that historically have bound the United States with her allies in the South Pacific.

The resolution further underscores that our Nation today has substantial interests in the South Pacific—whether that be in the fields of investment and trade, strategic security, Democratic government, human rights or environmental protection—and that U.S. interests often dovetail with the concerns of the countries of the region. The resolution, in short, urges that the United States remain actively engaged in the South Pacific.

Mr. Speaker, the three amendments that I am offering, which were adopted by the Foreign Affairs Committee, strike references to AID maintaining its missions in the South Pacific since the decision to close those missions has already been made. Additionally, the amendments recognize the reality of an ever-shrinking international affairs budget by asking that AID continue at least a modest level of assistance to the region.

Mr. Speaker, while we all support moves to increase efficiency, I believe that it is important for AID to support reasonable funding of a closeout program for the AID missions in the South Pacific. Funding for a closeout program will ensure that the investment already made by U.S. taxpayers will not be wasted on half-finished projects and programs.

In addition, I also believe that the United States should continue to provide foreign assistance to the South Pacific. Such assistance could come from global allocations, particularly in the areas of the environment, population, and private sector development.

Mr. Speaker, the resolution before us persuasively makes the case that the United States must remain firmly engaged in the affairs of the South Pacific, both for our national interests as well as the needs of the region. It further underscores the commitments made by the Clinton and Bush administrations to forge close ties with the South Pacific countries that will make possible the achievement of a new Pacific community.

I strongly support the measure and urge my colleagues to adopt the amendments and the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I further want to commend the gentleman from New York, the distinguished ranking minority member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, the Honorable BEN GILMAN, for his support and assistance on the resolution. I also want to commend the gentleman from Iowa, the ranking minority member of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on the Asia-Pacific, the Honorable JIM LEACH, for his invaluable support and assistance on this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the chairman of the Subcommittee on Asian and Pacific Affairs of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, the gentleman from New York [Mr. ACKERMAN] and the ranking minority member, the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. LEACH] as well as the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA] for guiding this legislation through our Committee on Foreign Affairs and bringing it to the House floor today.

House Concurrent Resolution 180 was the result of a very productive meeting members of this committee had with representatives from almost all the South Pacific Island nations. Our delegate from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA] was instrumental in arranging that discussion. He and his energetic staff have been very helpful in educating all of us and stressing the importance of the South Pacific region.

As we continue our policy of foreign aid retrenchment around the world, we should make certain that the United States remains actively engaged in the South Pacific region through continued membership and financial support for key regional organizations.

These include the South Pacific Regional Environmental Programs and the U.N. Global Conference for the Development of Small Island States.

I would also point out to my colleagues that we share many cultural values with the people in the South Pacific region and that we continue to have many strategic political and economic interests at stake in that part of the world.

Accordingly, I am pleased to support House Concurrent Resolution 180 and urge my colleagues to do so as well.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of House Concurrent Resolution 180, which expresses the sense of Congress that the United States must maintain its presence in and assistance for the South Pacific region.

Like my colleague, Mr. FALOMAVAEGA, I represent a U.S. Territory in the South Pacific. As Americans, we advocate a strong U.S. presence in the region to ensure that this Nation's economic, trade, and investment interests are protected and expanded in the Pacific, gateway to Asia.

As Pacific Islanders, we are part of the greater Pacific community. We feel solidarity with our neighbors and believe that they should receive current modest aid levels provided by the United States.

Mr. Speaker, when it comes to international affairs, this Nation is fighting the tendency to bury our head in the sand and ignore world events. While international aid budgets must come down, such cuts should not come at the expense of effective programs. The American dollar goes a long way when spent on aid to the Pacific Basin. We are not talking about waste, fraud, and abuse of taxpayer money. We are talking about maintaining a viable presence.

I urge my colleagues to support this resolution.

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. FALOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALOMAVAEGA] that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, House Concurrent Resolution 180, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. FALOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks, and include extraneous material, on House Concurrent Resolution 180, the concurrent resolution just agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from American Samoa?

There was no objection.

ANNUAL REPORT ON ALASKA'S MINERAL RESOURCES—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MONTGOMERY) laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States; which was read and, together with the accompanying papers, without objection, referred to the Committee on Natural Resources:

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith the 1993 Annual Report on Alaska's Mineral Resources, as required by section 1011 of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (Public Law 96-487; 16 U.S.C. 3151). This report contains pertinent public information relating to minerals in Alaska gathered by the U.S. Geological Survey, the U.S. Bureau of Mines, and other Federal agencies.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES REGARDING ADMINISTRATION OF THE RADIATION CONTROL FOR HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT OF 1968—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States; which was read and, together with the accompanying papers, without objection, referred to the Committee on Energy and Commerce:

To the Congress of the United States:

In accordance with section 540 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 360qq) (previously section 360D of the Public Health Service Act), I am submitting the report of the Department of Health and Human Services regarding the administration of the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968 during calendar year 1992.

The report recommends the repeal of section 540 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that requires the completion of this annual report. All the information found in this report is available to the Congress on a more immediate basis through the Center for Devices and Radiological Health technical reports, the Radiological Health Bulletin and other publicly available sources. This annual report serves little useful purpose and diverts Agency resources from more productive activities.

TO BALANCE THE BUDGET OR NOT BALANCE THE BUDGET: THAT IS THE QUESTION

(Mr. MICA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, this week the U.S. Senate will consider a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution.

I have only served in Congress for 14 months, and I am convinced more than ever that this Congress must enact a balanced budget amendment.

Why, quite frankly my colleagues and fellow Americans, Congress runs the Federal Government like an 18th century plantation with bad accounting practices. The spending of your tax dollars here is often without rhyme or reason.

Legislative constraints on spending are worthless. Two weeks ago we proved that again with over $11 billion in new spending.

Gramm, Rudman, and Hollings legislation did not work. Bush and Clinton tax increases will not work. Only a balanced budget amendment will put the brakes on spending.

Now do not believe the hollow arguments against a balanced budget amendment. States do it, cities do it, and most taxpayers do it.

I urge my colleagues and all Americans this week to contact members of the other body as they decide the fate of the most important question facing our Nation.

To balance the budget or not balance the budget—that is the question.

URGING THE ADMINISTRATION TO INCLUDE THE MARSHALL ISLANDERS IN A GOVERNMENT STUDY OF RADIATION EXPERIMENTS

(Mr. FALOMAVAEGA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks, and include extraneous material.)

Mr. FALOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I want to comment on an issue that has bothered me for some time and that is finally getting proper attention: The sorry legacy of our Nation's nuclear testing program in the Pacific—which involved 66 nuclear explosions in the 1940's and 1950's.

In particular, I have long believed that when the United States detonated the Bravo shot—a 17 megaton thermonuclear bomb—on Bikini Atoll, the people of the Marshall Islands, especially those residents on nearby Rongelap and Utrik Atolls, were deemed expendable. The U.S. Defense Department has admitted that when the explosion took place, it knew islanders were downwind and in the path of windborne radiation.

Mr. Speaker, the Bravo explosion was equivalent to 1,300 times the destructive force of the atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

From my discussions with Marshall Island leaders, they believe their people were used as guinea pigs and test subjects for U.S. radiation experiments. I share that belief.

Recently, Government documents have come to light that give weight to that position.

Archive documents released by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and related Federal agencies show that U.S. scientists callously viewed the Marshall islanders as little better than laboratory mice. According to recent press reports, an Atomic Energy Commission official discussing the Marshall Islands nuclear tests was quoted in 1956 as saying:

While it is true that these people do not live, I would say in, the way westerners do, civilized people, it is nevertheless true that these people are more like us than the mice.

The same Government official further stated:

They have been living on that island, now that the island is safe to live on, but it is by far the most contaminated place in the world.

Mr. Speaker, I find these remarks by a representative of the U.S. Government to be disturbing and tragic, and I am gratified to see that my fellow colleagues have likewise been shocked.

I especially want to commend Hon. JOHN DINGELL, chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, who, based on these remarks, has requested President Clinton to include the Marshall islanders in the comprehensive investigation of Government conducted radiation experiments.

I further commend Hon. GEORGE MILLER, chairman of the House Committee on Natural Resources, who has called for hearings to look into the legacy of our nuclear testing program in the Marshall Islands.

Mr. Speaker, I applaud the Clinton administration's call for an intensive review of Government radiation experiments. It is about time that our great Nation faces responsibility for its nuclear experimentation and the devastating impact on countless numbers of innocent people, many of them Americans. Likewise, it is only just and appropriate that we include these Marshall islanders in this study, rectify our mistakes, and bring this tragic chapter in our history to a close.

Mr. Speaker, I include for the record a timely article on this subject in yesterday's Washington Times. I also include excerpts from an excellent book on the U.S. nuclear testing program in the Marshall Islands, "Day of Two Suns," by Author Jane Dibblin, which detail the immense suffering endured by these people of the Pacific.

Mr. Speaker, I include for the RECORD the following printed material.

[From the Washington Times, Feb. 21, 1994]

NUCLEAR REMARKS UNDER FIRE—1950's TALK SHOCKS 1994 OBSERVERS

(By Michael Hedges)

Documents found in the archives of federal atomic agencies reveal a callous attitude by U.S. scientists toward using Pacific islanders as test subjects after atomic blasts in the 1950s.

"While it is true that these people do not live, I would say, the way Westerners do, civilized people, it is nevertheless true that these people are more like us than the mice," said a scientist in the official minutes of a January 1956 meeting of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in New York.

"They have been living on that island, now that the island is safe to live on, but it is by far the most contaminated place in the world," he said. The minutes of that meeting were partially declassified in 1986. Last month more portions were released.

Those remarks have led Rep. John Dingell, Michigan Democrat, to ask the Clinton administration to reconsider its decision not to include Marshall islanders in a widespread study of possible radiation experiments by the government.

The comments also may be raised at a hearing this week by a subcommittee of the House Committee on Natural Resources.

But the scientist quoted in the minutes said Saturday that his remarks have been taken out of context and possibly misstated. He warned of reaching conclusions in 1994 based on things said with a world view of the 1950s—a warning others have raised as the Clinton administration embarks on a review of government radiation experiments during the early years of atomic energy:

"I have seen those remarks; it is a mystery to me," said Merle Eisenbud. Mr. Eisenbud, who now lives in North Carolina, has been called to Washington to testify before the House committee on Thursday.

"The whole thing is taken out of context," he said. "That was a two-day meeting, and as I remember I was doing most of the talking. I may have been tired, or the stenographer may have been tired. I may just have been stupid," he said.

But in any event, "we were not looking for effects" of radiation poisoning, he said. "The dose would have been too low for that. We wanted to develop models for how strontium-90 worked in the environment. There was a critical need to know that."

The Marshall Islands were the site of a U.S. hydrogen bomb test on March 1, 1954, the Bravo Shot near the Bikini atoll in the Marshalls that wafted radioactive ash throughout the Pacific island chain.

The remarks in the 1956 documents have led Mr. Dingell, chairman of the Energy and Commerce Committee and its oversight and investigations subcommittee, to petition the Clinton administration.

"Recently, the subcommittee learned that the inhabitants of Utrik Atoll [in the Marshalls] may have been used as human guinea pigs," he wrote to Christine Varney, President Clinton's executive assistant.

"Not only does this document suggest the existence of yet another previously secret radiation experiment, it also reflects extraordinary callousness on the part of U.S. government officials," Mr. Dingell wrote.

The minutes of meetings on Jan. 13 and 14, 1956, by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's advisory committee on biology and medicine total more than 300 pages. The parts that have been released seem to show an ongoing government effort to measure radiation effects in the Marshalls.

Mr. Eisenbud told the panel, "I want to re-emphasize that the program you have heard today is a program that is in progress now."

He continued: "We think that one very intriguing study can be made and plans are on the way to implement this. . . . Utrik Atoll is the atoll furthest from the March 1st shot where people were exposed, got initially about 15 roentgens."

He said there were plans under way to test the urine of islanders, "so as to get a measure of the human uptake when people live in a contaminated environment."

"Data on this type has never been available," he said. "So that is something which will be done this winter."

But on Saturday Mr. Eisenbud said that the government did not follow up on plans to gather data on the Marshall islanders. "Our analytic methods were not very good in 1956," he said. "The fact that they were living in a contaminated environment could have allowed us to make measurements we couldn't make in New York or Paris or London," he said. "But in the end, we never followed up on that."

The 15-megaton thermonuclear Bravo Shot was 1,000 times more powerful than the bombs dropped on Japan during World War II. Utrik Atoll, and another inhabited island, Rongelap, were directly downwind from the explosion, with Rongelap only 100 miles from ground zero. About 239 islanders were exposed.

In a letter to Mr. Clinton in early January, Rep. George Miller, California Democrat, noted that "some Rongelapese have said they believe they were used as 'guinea pigs' to further U.S. understanding of the effects of radiation on humans."

"In light of recent disclosures regarding actual radiation experimentation in the United States during this period, that possibility cannot be ignored," he wrote.

But the administration decided in January that the Marshall Islands would not be included in the ongoing review by the White House's Human Radiation Interagency Working Group because there was no evidence that radiation experiments were conducted on people living there.

Mr. Dingell said in a letter to the White House on Thursday: "Not only does this document suggest the existence of yet another previously secret radiation experiment, it also reflects extraordinary callousness on the part of U.S. government officials."

Ms. Varney could not be reached for comment Friday or over the weekend.

In his letter to the White House, Mr. Dingell emphasized the "mice" comparison in the transcript. Mr. Eisenbud said the remark was much more damaging isolated from a 300-page document than in context. "If you look at it, you see I said the mice. Earlier in the conversation we had been talking about an experiment using mice and I was referring back to that experiment," he said.

Since the 1980s the Defense Department has admitted that officials knew the islanders were in the path of windblown debris from the bombs.

When the Marshalls became an independent country in 1986, the United States said islanders had been compensated for the high cancer rates that afflicted them after the war. The Marshallese claimed the payments were inadequate and charged information had not been released. According to some studies, about 500 islanders or their children and grandchildren suffer some effects of radiation poisoning.

DAY OF TWO SUNS

(By Jane Dibblin)

At 6:45 on the morning of 1 March 1954, eight years after testing in the Marshall Islands began, the U.S. detonated a bomb codenamed "Bravo" on the island of Bikini. The bomb was equivalent to 17 megatons of TNT, 1,300 times the destructive force of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima, and was specifically designed to create a vast amount of lethal fallout. That morning the wind was blowing in the direction of two inhabited atolls, Rongelap and Utrik, roughly 100 and 300 miles from Bikini. During previous tests Rongelap and Utrik had been evacuated. For some reason never yet divulged, there was no attempt to evacuate them before Bravo.

The first the islanders knew of Bravo was an intense light, like a strange sun dawning in the west. Later they heard the explosion. By mid-day the fallout, a fine powder which fell from the sky, had reached Rongelap.

Lemoyo Abon, now a teacher, shares her experience:

I was 14 at the time and my sister Roko was 12. That day our teacher had asked us—my sister and I and our two cousins—to cook rice for the other children. We got up early to do it. When we saw the bright light and heard a sound—boom—we were really scared. At that time we had no idea what it was. After noon, something powdery fell from the sky. Only later were we told it was fallout. With Roko and several cousins, I went to our village on the end of Rongelap Island to gather some sprouted coconuts. One cousin climbed the coconut tree and got something in her eyes, so we sent another one up. The same thing happened to her. When we went home—ours was the main village on Rongelap—it was raining. We saw something on the leaves, something yellow. Our parents asked, "What's happened to your hair?" It looked like we'd rubbed soap powder in it.

That night we couldn't sleep, our skin itched so much. On our feet were burns, as if from hot water. Our hair fell out. We'd look at each other and laugh—you're bald, you look like an old man. But really we were frightened and sad.

The pale powder continued to fall until late afternoon, by which time it was about one and a half inches deep. Later it emerged that it was in fact particles of lime (calcium oxide) formed when Bikini's coral reef (a formation of calcium carbonate) melted in the intense heat of the bomb and was sucked up and scattered for miles. The exact dose of radiation received by the islanders was never measured, but it was estimated that people on Utrik received 14 rem and those on Rongelap 175 rem. The International Commission on Radiological Protection now recommends that a maximum permissible total body dose to a member of the general public be 0.5 rem a year.

John Anjain, a magistrate on Rongelap at the time, tells what happened over the next two days—and why his people sometimes refer to the event as the "Day of Two Suns":

"On the morning of the 'bomb' I was awake and drinking coffee. I thought I saw what appeared to be the sunrise, but it was in the west. It was truly beautiful with many colours—red, green and yellow—and I was surprised. A little while later, the sun rose in the east. Then some time later something like smoke filled the entire sky and shortly after that a strong and warm wind—as a typhoon—swept across Rongelap. Then all of the people heard the great sound of the explosion. Some people began to cry with fright. Several hours later the powder began to fall on Rongelap. We saw four planes fly overhead, and we thought perhaps the planes had dropped this powder, which covered our island and stuck to our bodies. The visibility was less than one half mile at the time, due to the haze in the sky.

The next day, early in the morning, I looked at all of the catchments with Jabwe [the health aide] and Billiet [the school principal] and we noted the water had turned to yellow. I then warned the people not to drink from these water catchments, and told them to drink only Ni [coconut milk]. The people began to get sick with vomiting, aches all over the body, eye irritations and general weakness and fatigue. After the second day most of the people were unable to move around as usual due to their fatigue. Just a few strong young men were up and about at that time and I asked them to fetch some coconuts for the rest of us to drink. On the evening of the second day a seaplane arrived from Emewetak with two men who brought some strange machines. They stayed only about 20 minutes and they took some readings of water catchments and soil, then took off again. They really did not tell us very much."

Not far from Rongelap, U.S. Navy ships were measuring the intensity of radioactivity. They were not instructed to rescue the Rongelap people; indeed, the task force command ordered them to sail away from the area. Twenty-eight service personnel stationed on Rongelap Atoll to provide hourly weather reports were also exposed to radiation, and were not told when Bravo would be exploded. It was two days before the Navy arrived to pick up the Rongelap Islanders and the U.S. personnel—two days in which they breathed, slept and ate the fallout.

"No satisfactory answer has been given as to why they were not rescued as soon as it was known that they had been in the path of the fallout. Immediate decontamination on board ship would have at least minimized some of the horrific effects of radiation sickness. Instead, belatedly, the ships took the Rongelapese to the U.S. military base on Kwajalein Island, as Entry Enos explains:

"When we arrived on Kwajalein we started getting burns all over our bodies, and people were feeling dizzy and weak. At that time we did not know if we would ever return to Rongelap and we were afraid. After two days something appeared under my fingernails and then my fingernails came off and my fingers bled. We all had burns on our ears, shoulders, necks and feet, and our eyes were very sore."

Billiet Edmond kept a diary at the time. In one of his entries he described the injuries as follows:

"After two days on Kwajalein, a group of military doctors began their studying on the victims. Nausea, skin-burns, diarrhea, headaches, eye pain, hair fall-out, numbness, skin discoloration were among common complaints. It had been so for quite a while. The children were more critical. My 10-year-old adopted son had severe burns on his body, feet, head, neck and ears. I cannot help remembering those sleepless nights we had to hold him down onto his bed as he would have jumped up and down, scratching, rolling, as though insane.

"Although I had also some burns on my back, feet and hands, and my hair was falling out, I knew I had been the least affected, and I deeply felt pity about those who suffered the most."

"On Kwajalein the Rongelapese were given medical treatment. It was cursory, to say the least. Film footage of that time shows lines of Marshalese people being 'inspected'. Jabwe Jojour, health aide on Rongelap, was angered by the lack of information given to the islanders about their injuries, and he states:

"When we arrived in Kwajalein we immediately showered for several hours at the military base there. After some days a medical team flew out from the U.S., and they are still treating us today. After three days we had burns all over our bodies, and our hair began to fall out; some people actually went bald. When we asked the Atomic Energy Commission doctors to help us understand what had happened, they did not tell us, and today they do not tell us the truth about our problems."

"A Japanese tuna fishing boat, the Lucky Dragon, was also caught in the path of Bravo's fallout. It was 100 miles east of Bikini when the bomb was detonated. The crew members suffered headaches and nausea and by the time they reached Japan two weeks later all 23 were suffering from radiation sickness, with skin blisters and falling hair. One of the crew members, Aikichi Kuboyama, died of liver and blood damage on 23 September. The fisherman's injuries caused an international outcry and two years later the U.S. handed over $2 million in compensation to the Japanese Government.

For three years the people of Rongelap led an uncertain and unsettled existence, shunted around different islands, first Ebeye, then Ejit Island in Majuro Atoll, waiting to be told it was safe to return home.

The Rongelap people had a long wait before they saw their land again, but they too returned with mixed feelings. Entry Eno recalls:

"I was afraid to return to Rongelap in 1957 but they said it was safe for us. We did not understand what 'poison' [radiation] was, and if we had we would not have returned. Now we really understand that the 'poison' is dangerous and that Rongelap is contaminated. In 1957 [we were told] that we could eat anything we wanted except the coconut crab. When we ate the arrowroot it really burned our mouths. Everything we were used to eating had changed color and we were surprised that we were allowed to eat our foods in Rongelap, even though we knew that the foods were unusual in colour."

John Anjain remembers:

"At the time of our return the High Commissioner and some representatives from the United Nations Trusteeship Council came to our island. We asked them if it was safe to return to our island and they all agreed that there was still a little bit of radiation left on Rongelap and that it might injure our health, but not very much. With that slight reassurance we returned, but we had much fear then."

"For 22 years the people of Utrik were told that the dose of radiation they allegedly received, 14 rems, was too low to cause any concern. The exposed people were therefore examined only once every year, and those not directly exposed to fallout—who nevertheless returned to the atoll and were living off irradiated food—were not examined at all. That in itself caused resentment, with the 'unexposed' group feeling they too should be monitored and both groups feeling that radiation was taking its toll.

"How exactly did radiation affect the health of the islanders? Even before returning to Rongelap and Utrik, people began to realize that the burns, intense itching, nausea and hair loss they had experienced in the first weeks after Bravo were not the end of their problems. One of the most disturbing and terrifying effects was on women's reproductive systems and on children yet to be born. Some women who became pregnant in the years following Bravo found they suffered an unexpectedly high number of miscarriages and severely deformed babies, many of whom died. Almira Matayoshi was 17 and living on Rongelap at the time of Bravo, and she states:

"One of my babies was born in 1955 [the year after Bravo] and it did not have any bones in its body. After that I had problems with the next pregnancy and they had to rush me to Kwajalein Hospital because I was bleeding. There they gave me a D and C and it caused me so much pain that I was temporarily blinded—they had to give me ten pints of blood."

Mary Sampson was only seven when she was caught in the fallout on Rongelap. When she reached child-bearing age she suffered similar experiences:

"I have had very many problems with childbearing. My first baby lived for a very short time—several minutes—but it was not healthy and did not move around very much when it was born. I was very sad and confused because I was healthy then, and then when I thought about it I remembered that I had 'poison' in my body and that is why the baby died, later another baby was born and it too died shortly after birth. Then I had a miscarriage after four months. Now I am always afraid when I am pregnant and this fear is shared by all women on Utrik and Rongelap. Even my healthy children may someday get radiation diseases."

"Women on Wotje and Utrik too have had deeply traumatic births. Kathe Judo lives on Wotje and describes what the Marshallese women now call 'jellyfish babies'."

"I saw three different women give birth to strange things after the 'bomb'. One was like the bark of a coconut tree. One was like a watery mass that was not human-like. Another was again like a watery mass of grapes or something like that. I believe that these things are all caused by 'the bomb.'"

Nelly Aplos was 19 when she heard bravo explode from her home island of Utrik:

"Now I have lots of aches and pains in my body, notably in my back, chest and under my breast. I have lost three babies after 'the bomb'—and never had any problem before. The first baby lived for two days and then the baby's skin turned blue and it died. Later when I was six months pregnant the baby died and I was very sick at the time. After that I was pregnant for two months and then I had a jibun [miscarriage]. I know now that I have a lot of poison in my body and I am certain that this makes the babies weak. I was never sick during any of my pregnancies (except after I lost my babies) and this never happened before the bomb. I have heard from other women in Utrik about many cases of jibun * * * I also have heard of some babies who do not know how to suck from their mother's breast and who eventually die of hunger."

When I spent time with the Rongelap people in 1986, I met one evening with the women on Mejato. We talked about why I was there, the problems they were facing and how women's groups and peace group in the West could work with them. Suddenly one woman who had been sitting silently in a corner spoke up. She was Katherine Jilel, the midwife and a grandmother. She spoke forcefully through her tears:

"We are very angry at the U.S. and I'll tell you why. Have you ever seen a jellyfish baby born looking like a bunch of grapes, so the only reason we knew it was a baby was because we could see the brain? We've had these babies—they died soon after they were born."

Later she told me about her own baby:

"Our first baby was born in October 1960, after the bomb, when we'd returned to Rongelap. He was born with a big lump on his head and died very, very young. All the food we were eating was irradiated but we didn't know. I wasn't even on Rongelap the day the test happened but I went back there in 1957 and I was irradiated from eating the food. I think that's why my son died."

The testimonies of women who have given birth to an unborn fetus or who have suffered repeated miscarriages are too numerous to include them all here. Many women have chosen not to show the babies to their partners; some cannot bear to see them themselves, says Marshallese health worker Darlene Keju-Johnson:

"When they die they are buried right away. A lot of times they don't allow the mother to see this kind of baby because she'll go crazy."

Radiation can damage an unborn child in various ways: firstly, a fetus can be damaged by being exposed to radiation while in the mother's womb. Almost a quarter of pregnant women exposed within a mile and quarter of the explosion in Hiroshima lost their pregnancies through miscarriages or stillbirths. Of the live births, a quarter died when they were less than one year old, and a quarter of the children who survived had mental handicaps. Many children suffered microcephaly: an abnormally small head circumference and severe mental handicaps. Japanese Hibakusha (radiation survivors) were mostly unable to have children during the first three years after the bombing: Those who conceived of then aborted unborn, unrecognizable fetuses late in the pregnancy."

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

Is this an Amendment?
☐ YES ☐ NO

NOTE on ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
- (ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".

(b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:

- (i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
- (ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

☐ CHECK IF ADDRESS IS DIFFERENT THAN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED

NOTE on ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER —State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE on ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and, if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly Report."

(NOTE.—The form used for reporting is reproduced below. PURSUANT TO FEDERAL REGULATION OF LOBBYING ACT

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

Is this an Amendment?

☐ YES ☐ NO

NOTE on ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
- (ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".
- (b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:
 - (i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
 - (ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

☐ CHECK IF ADDRESS IS DIFFERENT THAN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED

NOTE on ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER—State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE on ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and, if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly" Report. ♦

STATEMENT OF VERIFICATION

NOTE on ITEM "D."—(a) IN GENERAL. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—for such printed or duplicated matter—is a "contribution." "The term 'contribution' includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make a contribution"—§ 302(a) of the Lobbying Act.

(b) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN EMPLOYER.—(i) In general. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals.—A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multi-purpose Organizations.—Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions. The percentage of the general fund which is used for such expenditures indicates the percentage of dues, assessments, or other contributions which may be considered to have been paid for that purpose. Therefore, in reporting receipts, such organizations may specify what that percentage is, and report their dues, assessments, and other contributions on that basis. However, each contributor of $500 or more is to be listed, regardless of whether the contribution was made solely for legislative purposes.

(c) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN AGENT OR EMPLOYEE.—(i) In general. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under Items "D 5" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements). In the absence of a clear statement to the contrary, it will be presumed that your employer is to reimburse you for all expenditures which you make in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More.—When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 5," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "B" on page 1 of this report.

The following reports for the third calendar quarter of 1993 were received too late to be included in the published reports for that quarter:

(NOTE.—The form used for report is reproduced below. In the interest of economy in the RECORD, questions are not repeated, only the essential answers are printed, and are indicated by their respective headings. This page (Page 1) is designed to supply identifying data, and Page 2 deals with financial data.)

PLEASE RETURN 1 ORIGINAL TO: THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, OFFICE OF RECORDS AND REGISTRATION, 1036 LONGWORTH HOUSE

REPORT

PURSUANT TO FEDERAL REGULATION OF LOBBYING ACT

P	QUARTER
	1st	2d	3d	4th

(Mark one square only)

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

Is this an Amendment?

☐ YES ☐ NO

NOTE on ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
- (ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".

(b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:

- (i) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
- (ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

☐ CHECK IF ADDRESS IS DIFFERENT THAN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

NOTE on ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER —State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE on ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for: by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and, if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly" Report.

STATEMENT OF VERIFICATION

[Omitted in printing]

NOTE on ITEM "D."—(a) IN GENERAL. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—for such printed or duplicated matter—is a "contribution." "The term 'contribution' includes a gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money, or anything of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make a contribution"—§ 302(a) of the Lobbying Act.

(b) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN EMPLOYER.—(i) In general. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals.—A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multi-purpose Organizations.—Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions. The percentage of the general fund which is used for such expenditures indicates the percentage of dues, assessments, or other contributions which may be considered to have been paid for that purpose. Therefore, in reporting receipts, such organizations may specify what that percentage is, and report their dues, assessments, and other contributions on that basis. However, each contributor of $500 or more is to be listed, regardless of whether the contribution was made solely for legislative purposes.

(c) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN AGENT OR EMPLOYEE.—(i) In general. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under Items "D 5" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements). In the absence of a clear statement to the contrary, it will be presumed that your employer is to reimburse you for all expenditures which you make in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More.—When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 5," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "B" on page 1 of this report.
